

Gentle Stingrays

The stingrays in this pool are safe to touch. The spines on their tails have been trimmed, much like you might trim your fingernails.

Wild stingrays don't get manicures! If you ever visit tropical beaches where stingrays live, make sure to do the "Stingray Shuffle". As you wade in the water, kick the sand in front of you to let the rays know you're there. They'll swim away from you. They don't want to be stepped on, just like you don't want to step on them!
