

Name: _____

Recipe for Plant Food

What do plants eat? Plants make their own food, called sugar. Fill in words to help complete the recipe below.

Ingredients:

- Carbon dioxide from the air
- Water
- Sunlight

Instructions to plants:

1. Suck up _____ from the ground.
2. Catch _____ with your leaves.
3. Use _____ from the sun to mix things up.
4. Breathe in _____ from the air.
5. Breathe out _____ from the water.
6. Now use sunlight-energy, carbon dioxide water and minerals to make _____.
7. Sugar is your _____!
8. Use sugar to make all your parts, like leaves, _____, fruits and flowers.

food	energy	sugar	carbon dioxide
seeds	sunlight	water and minerals	oxygen

Name: _____

Recipe for Plant Food (Answer Key)

What do plants eat? Plants make their own food, called sugar. Fill in words to help complete the recipe below.

Ingredients:

- Carbon dioxide from the air
- Water
- Sunlight

Instructions to plants:

1. Suck up water and minerals from the ground.
2. Catch sunlight with your leaves.
3. Use energy from the sun to mix things up.
4. Breathe in carbon dioxide from the air.
5. Breathe out oxygen from the water.
6. Now use sunlight-energy, carbon dioxide, water and minerals to make sugar.
7. Sugar is your food !
8. Use sugar to make all your parts, like leaves, seeds, fruits and flowers.

food	energy	sugar	carbon dioxide
seeds	sunlight	water and minerals	oxygen