1. Question:

We have registered to get COR Certification for our company but not yet received the actual COR Certification. Are we okay to bid on this project? Is just the registration valid to proceed further on this project or does TORONTO ZOO need the actual COR certificate before commencement of the project?

Answer:

It is desirable for the bidder to possess and maintain a valid Certificate of Recognition (COR™) or an Equivalent OHS Certification for the duration of performance of the Agreement but this is not a mandatory requirement.

2. Question:

Could you advise about the union affiliation required for the prime contractor & trades?

Answer:

No union requirement. Fair Wage Policy is applicable.

3. Question:

Is a temp electrical generator required? Or Electricity will be available by the client?

Answer:

Electrical outlets (120v) on the building can be utilized by the contractor. Electrical requirements that exceed the load limitations of 120v outlets shall be supplied by the contractor.

4. Question:

Can we get the complete bidders list?

Answer:

Bidders list will not be provided.

Receipt of the Addendum shall be acknowledged as part of your submission.
